COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Radio Study Committee met Tuesday night, Oct. 12, at the Fire Station to review the installation of the Fire Department Radio System. This system includes a base unit located in the Fire House with a remote in the Town Office; mobile units in the new pumper, No. 1 tank truck, and the Mack pumper; a combination mobile unit and portable for the fire chief; and two portable units. The committee reviewed the contract and the installation job and developed a list of minor corrections that need to be made prior to payment for the system.

The Planning Board met Wednesday evening, Oct. 13, at the Fire Station. Richard Davis met with the Board to ask for their review of his plans for a new sawmill. The Board informed Mr. Davis that they had no official jurisdiction in regard to his project, but that they could make recommendations to the town. The new facility is to be built some 12 feet higher than the existing sawmill and located directly behind his present office building. The most practical site would have to be one foot below the flood plain elevation. The Board voted to recommend to the Code Enforcement Officer that a permit be issued for a building one foot below the flood plain and built according to flood proof construction methods.

The Board of Selectmen will meet in regular session Monday evening, Oct. 25, in the Town Office. Items on the agenda include the appointment of a committee to review police protection and make recommendations for improvements, and the review of hopper-sander bids.

The Town Office will be open Saturday morning, Oct. 30, from 8 a. m. to 12 noon for residents to complete absentee ballots and to take new voter registrations.

S. A. D. #44 BOARD GRANTS INITIAL APPROVAL TO POLICY ON DETENTION/SUSPENSION

Postpone Action on Elementary Administrative Reorganization

The board of directors of M. S. A. D. #44 met in regular session in the Library at Telstar Regional High School Monday evening of this week.

Board member Gerald Schachter of Andover commented on the excellent appearance and condition of the Andover Elementary School Building.

The Negotiation Committee reported that they had met with the District's principals last week and would meet next week with representatives of non-certified personnel and their AFL-CIO negotiator.

The Finance Committee reported that they had approved a change in format of the monthly financial statement. It was felt that, although less comprehensive than formerly utilized, it better served the board's purpose.

The directors approved a proposal for development of a Community Work Council. Under the proposal the Council would consist of a 16-member group made up of professional educators, board members, students and citizens. The purpose would be to improve the current method of enrolling students to make the transition from school to the world of work. As its objective the Council would define the educational needs of the school; community needs; review existing curriculum and make recommendations to the superintendent of schools, determine if teaching resources are consistent with school and community needs; explore means of delivery of services through community resources as a whole. The latter would include career guidance, counseling and job placement.

The board approved the following revised transportation policy: "The late bus run will consist of one run at a time to be determined by the Superintendent. Said time will not be later than 6 p. m. Busing will be provided for all scheduled school activities after 10:30 p. m. An attempt to amend the policy to provide "busing after 6 p. m. for all away contests, until such time as the transportation is in danger of being over expended" was defeated. It was said that any additional transportation provided over that of the approved policy would cost another $2,500 in an already "tight" budget.

The board had a lengthy discussion, but took no action on educational goals and objectives of S. A. D. #44. Goals and objectives

RED CROSS WORKERS PLAN BLOOD DRAWING CLINIC

Plans are underway for Bethel's fall Red Cross Blood Drawing Clinic and the first meeting of local volunteers was held Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Nellie Frankevicz.

The need for blood to replenish area blood banks is crucial and it is very important that the Bethel and surrounding town's quotas be met.

Because of a recent misunderstanding, the Red Cross Blood Program has received adverse publicity. To set the record straight, the Red Cross neither buys nor sells blood. Its only charge is for the processing. All blood received is strictly on a donor basis and it is thoroughly tested and completely processed before distribution to participating hospitals. The use of Red Cross blood has drastically reduced the incidence of illness or death caused by the transfusion of impure blood.

Another meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 28, at 10 a. m., at the Bethel Savings Bank, at which time Mr. Jenkins, a representative of the Red Cross Blood Unit will speak and show a film. Volunteers are needed and anyone having questions concerning the Red Cross program will be welcomed and urged to attend. Further information concerning Bethel's Nov. 22 Blood Drawing Clinic will be available.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS
MET OCTOBER 14

The Oxford County Democratic Committee met on Oct. 14 in Brownfield for its pre-election session which featured former Gov. Kenneth Curtis and Mrs. Holly Cooney, wife of Congressional candidate Cooney, as special guests. An excellent attendance was noted by County Chairman Paul McGuire, with several candidates present including David McKenney for Senate District 3, Ted Whittier, Legislative District 65; Alton Howe, sheriff; Albert Beliveau, Judge of Probate and Albert Theriault, District 68.

Governor Curtis, in a brief speech, stressed the importance of the reelection of the Democratic majority in the legislature, and had particular praise for Leighton Cooney, saying that he was doing a "tremendous job" in his Cooney to Congress campaign. Turning to the Muskie campaign, Curtis outlined the basic philosophical differences between Senator Muskie and opposition, as well as the vital role Muskie will play as Senate Budget chairman in achieving a balanced budget for the nation. Mentioning his long-time friendship with Jimmy Carter, Curtis regaled the group with some anecdotes before turning to the serious message; that the election of Jimmy Carter will put an end to eight years of Nixon-Ford policies such as using unemployment to control inflation with little regard to the serious consequences on the unemployed.

In the brief business meeting of the County Committee, the resignation of Lawrence Dammun as treasurer because of job conflicts was accepted. With the election of a replacement postponed until November, Cathy Newell, County secretary, will serve in the interim. Attention was given to budgeting county contributions to the campaigns of various candidates. Chairman McGuire announced the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner, to be held in Lewiston on Oct. 24 and Joe Costanzo urged attendance at the dinner for Senator Muskie in Rumford on Oct. 17. The party headquarters in Rumford and South Paris are in full operation. Election night results should be phoned collect to Rumford 369-9972, and Paris 743-8883. McGuire announced that Rep. Jim Wilfong and Rep. Dick Spencer's Initiative 70 petitions, urging adoption of a Sunset Law for Maine, are available and will be in circulation on Election Day. The petitions are also being sponsored by Common Cause of Maine, a branch of the nation-wide citizen's lobby.

Ed Mills, Fryeburg town chairman, presented the County Chairman with a gavel to be used by the Chairman of the Oxford County.

REGULAR MEETING OF

Paul McGuire announced that he has tickets available for the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner to be held on Oct. 24 at the Lewiston Armory, and anyone wishing to attend should contact him.

PLAN HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Gilead Women's Club met on Tuesday, Oct. 12, at the school house with most of the ladies in attendance. A special "thank you" goes out to Mrs. Edith Smith for a donation of books for the new library also a "thank you" to Mrs. Genevieve Loring and Miss Emeline Heath for their contributions to the general fund.

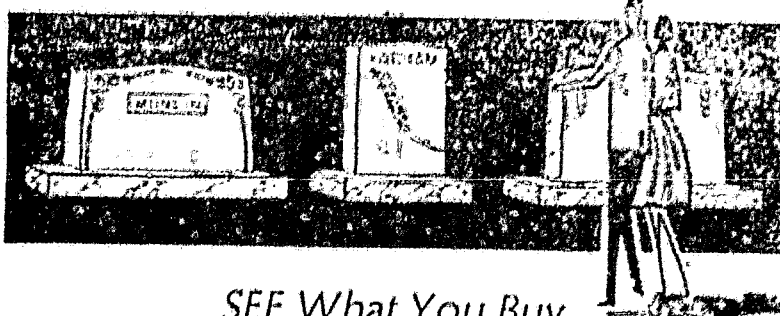

There was a report on the skating rink and the materials needed have been purchased. There will be a get-together of any people in town who might like to help with the skating rink construction, putting up plywood, etc. On Saturday, Oct. 23, from one o'clock on through the afternoon, if you can spare an hour or so your help is needed, also any of the teenagers in town, your help could be used! The ladies have worked hard to raise money for materials now they would appreciate any help so the rink may be made ready to skate on this winter!

There will be a Halloween party on Saturday, Oct. 30, from 7 to 8:30 at the old town hall for all Gilead children. There will be games, refreshments, prizes for best costumes and of course a fun "horror house".

The next meeting is on Tuesday, Nov. 16. Ladies, please bring one or two articles for game night, also a November food sale is planned. Ladies, try to attend a fun game night!

AN OCTOBER DAY

What can be more beautiful Than our October days. When the hillsides and the valleys With bright colors are ablaze? On this crisp autumnal morning Come, let us take a ride From the little town of Bethel Up the Androscoggin's side. Vivid colors of the rainbow— Red, orange, yellow, green— On the New Hampshire mountains Are reflected in the stream. The sun is warm and shining The air is clear and clean. At each bend of the highway New vistas can be seen. We take the winding journey Round the mountains tall and steep. And down the many notches Like canyons long and deep. The scarlet of the maples Is seen on every hand. The gayly-tinted landscapes Have no equal in the land. We gaze about in pure delight At each new scene of splendor. And when winter keeps us house-bound We'll have these to remember. And in the early evening, As we take our homeward way, We thank our Heavenly Father For the beauty of this day.

MY PROJECTION FOR
CENTURY III
After having done much research on the topic, I've chosen school discipline as my projection for Century III.

I was amazed to learn what an extensive problem school discipline is today. An article I read revealed some of the facts which caused by decision. For example, in the 1974-75 school year, hundreds of thousands of attacks took place on students, including one hundred murders. Seventy thousand assaults were reported to have been committed on teachers during that same year. Property damage, (ranging from graffiti to theft of equipment and arson) cost six-hundred million dollars, which is more than that which was spent on textbooks.

Discipline is a vague word, defined differently by different people. Despite the interpretation given, I feel that with statistics such as those discussed above, there is a definite need for discipline. Parents and grandparents make references to discipline in the "good old days," and Tom Sawyer acquaints us with the hickory stick punishment. It's evident that discipline has always existed in one form or another; probably because it's so necessary.

Through research I also learned that J. William Rouse of the National Committee for Citizens in Education says his group receives far more complaints pertaining to school disorder and disruption than those about the curriculum and course content. Lack of discipline has been voted as the number one problem facing American education today. So, for all these reasons I've chosen school discipline as my projection.

I feel it's a shame, because schools today (through no fault of their own) serve as a breeding place for problems which originated elsewhere, therefore that's where the correction should occur.
But, since disruption and other problems affect our schools, they must be dealt with therein.

It is impractical and unfair to ask teachers and principals to solve the discipline problem. Disciplining pupils. My basic solution would be to obtain an atmosphere in which learning is valued and the teachers are respected. Disruptive persons should be dealt with quickly, fairly and firmly. It should be made clear to students that learning cannot always be fun or interesting and often entails some mental effort, hard work and sacrifice. Perhaps by revealing the importance of education to children they would learn to respect and appreciate teachers, which would create a generally healthier atmosphere.

The Children's Fund Defense (CDF) feels that suspensions are a solution of no great value, and I agree. Granted, there are cases in which they're worthwhile, but, on the whole I feel they seldom serve any demonstrated purpose.
Suspension merely pushes a child's problem onto the street. Perhaps it was a child's disruptive cry for attention that created the problem that resulted in suspension in the first place.

The only other solution I offer is an alternative form of education. Perhaps it would be best for all concerned to rid the classroom of those who are unwilling to be there and seem unable to deal with conventional academic work. Placing them on a career

PUPIL EVALUATION TEAM

ANNOUNCED BY MSAD #44
MSAD #44 announces the establishment of its Pupil Evaluation Team (PET) for the current school year. This team, which operates in compliance with state education statutes, has as its main responsibilities the following:

1. Confirming or rejecting the initial identification of students potentially in need of special education programs and/or services.
2. Developing an appropriate special education plan for each student whose initial identification is confirmed and recommending these plans to the Superintendent and
3. Reviewing at least annually the special education plans approved for each student to determine their continued appropriateness and to help evaluate the student's educational progress.

The parent or legal guardian of each child referred to the Pupil Evaluation Team will be notified in advance and will be invited to participate in the evaluation and planning process for their child, and will be kept informed of any evaluation and placements affecting their child. Parents also retain the right to appeal decisions of the Pupil Evaluation Team.

The following district personnel will be members of the Pupil Evaluation Team for the 1976-77 school year:

Arthur Froberg, School Psychologist, Chairman; Suzanne Bartlett, District Nurse; Ann Holt, Special Education; Mabel Kennett, Reading Specialist; Floris Robin, Reading Specialist; Kaye Roth, Reading Specialist; Helen Sheve-nell, District Speech Pathologist; Kenneth Smith, Superintendent of Schools; Natalie Timberlake, Reading Specialist; William Triestman, Special Education.

The Pupil Evaluation Team will work closely with individual class room teachers, social services personnel, and the health professions and invite them to participate in the planning process for students with whom they are involved.

For further information regarding the pupil evaluation process you may contact Art Froberg, District School Psychologist at education program might motivate them: meanwhile they'd be off school premises part time. By meeting required minimum academic standards, they could be eligible to be paid for work they did on their career type education.

Consideration for credit could also be given to volunteer service in the community. Through this program the "problem student" would be enabled to develop a self-awareness and meanwhile would be learning about getting along with people. Perhaps then they'd see the need to break loose the title "problem child," and would start concentrating more on environment and the need to improve the community and themselves.

Letters to the Editor

Oct. 15, 1976

To the Editor:
I'd like to tell you why I support Karen Brown for election to the Maine House of Representatives from District #63.

I have known Karen Brown for many years. I have found Karen to be an independent thinker—an energetic young woman sincerely concerned about the special problems of Maine and the rural areas she will represent.

Karen Brown will bring efficiency and responsiveness back to Maine government. I hope you will vote for Karen Brown on Nov. 2.
Congressman Bill Cohen

October 18, 1976

To the Editor:

It is a fact, I believe, that anyone who serves in public office has a special obligation to keep abreast of the concerns of the people he or she represents. This will assist the office holder in making the right decisions which do not adversely affect the fortunes of the people who elected him or her and make government responsive and more effective.

Legislative District 63 is a rural district, covering a considerable area, and as such has special needs. I have visited every community in it and now feel that I possess a basic understanding of what its desires are. I shall continue to visit as many homes and people as possible right up to election day, listening to the people. It has been a most worthwhile experience and I am grateful for the many friends and acquaintances I have made in my travels throughout the district.

If I am successful in becoming your representative, you can be assured that I will listen to you and work to achieve results for you. I plan to meet regularly with each town's officials to obtain their ideas and hear their problems. I shall also be issuing regular reports of what I am doing in Augusta to serve the people of District 63.

I ask every voter's help so that I may better represent the interests and special needs of Maine's rural districts.

Sincerely,
Karen L. Brown
Legislative Candidate

Oct. 18, 1976

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to share my feelings with the voters of District 63 as Election Day approaches. Over the past two years, I have come to know many of you personally in assisting you in your dealings with the complexities of state agencies and procedures. Working on your individual problems has been perhaps the most rewarding aspect of my job.

BROWNIE SCOUTS ORGANIZED

—JR. SCOUTS NEED LEADERS
There are four Brownie Troops underway in Bethel and one in Locke Mills. Leaders are Laurie Crockett in Locke Mills, Sue Ply-ver and Sheila Head in West Bethel, and Marion Vrabec, Lillian Conant, Jean Monzo, Carol York, Sylvia Gould, and Maryvonne Wheeler in Bethel. Nine second-grade girls are joining the Bethel groups this year.

Leaders for Junior Scouts still have not been found. Anyone interested or having suggestions as to what can be done about this situation is asked to call Ruth Fenney.

During the time prior to November 2, I will be in touch with as many of you as possible to listen to your particular concerns, and to explain what I feel to be the most important task facing the 108th session—the implementation of tax reform and sound budgetary practices for Maine. My campaign funds are limited and it will not be possible to contact all of you individually by mail. However, I hope you will feel free to call me if I can provide any information you need before you vote. I hope you WILL vote on November 2.
My part of the job is running for re-election as YOUR representative. Your part is two-fold: 1. to keep me informed of your needs and desires with respect to your state government and, 2. to vote.
I promise I'll do my best.

Oct. 18, 1976

To the Editor:
As the only practicing dentist in District 63, and in fairness to the denture patients of Maine and those who love them, I am forced to write this letter.

Unfortunately, I know how Emily voted in the past on dentur-ism. I also have a copy of the bill to be introduced at the next legislature. Unless someone can change her philosophy, she will support it.

I would be most happy to never make another denture, but I do not want to see denture patients treated by untrained people. I know these so called "denturists" too well. We do not need them in Maine or elsewhere in the U.
S. A. Incidentally, they are now illegal in all states.

Sincerely,
John W. Trinward, D.M.D.

PEANUT BUTTER READERS

five young people from the Portland area, entertained the Bethel third and fourth grades on Tuesday morning at the Bethel Savings Bank. They were sponsored by the Maine Bicentennial Commission through the Bethel Public Library. Bethel Library was one of 12 libraries in Maine who were granted an appearance of this theatre group by the Commission. Peanut Butter Readers is a reading theatre which entertains its audiences by interpreting poems and stories through mime, song and dance, with the hope of stimulating a joy in reading. They also offer lectures, workshops for children and adults, and technique classes. On Tuesday afternoon they conducted a very inspiring workshop for several interested adults.

RECORD TUNOUT FOR W.M.I.C. MEETING AT BETHEL INN

The Western Maine Industrial Management Club held its first meeting of the season on Monday, Oct. 11, at the Bethel Inn, with President Robert Whitney presiding.

The meeting was marked by a turnout of 97 members and guests, a club record. Included among these were seven women.

BETHEL AL-ANON TO CELEBRATE FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Bethel Al-Anon will soon be celebrating its first anniversary. It was hoped that with T. V. ads and media focus on alcoholism, more people than two or three would be attending meetings here. But that hasn't been the case. Is it because people aren't willing to admit there's a booze problem in their own family? (It's an accepted disease like any other.) Is it because of what the neighbors will think? (They may be in the same boat.) Is it a question of shame, guilt, fear? (If it's "ok" to have diabetes, the same must go for alcoholism.) Is it because of the need to work at getting or staying healthy in order to survive this #3 killer in our country? (You're absolutely right on, Al-Anon is a working program and it DOES WORK for those who are willing to take the first step: "admitted we were powerless over alcohol" and our lives had become unmanageable.)

If you are emotionally involved with an alcoholic (co-alcoholism), your own life is in just as much danger as the alcoholic's. It's a family disease, and if there is active alcoholism going on, it does not reverse itself. It only gets progressively and insidiously worse. Be sure to view the film, "Drink, Drank, Drunk", on channel 10 at 2 p. m., Sunday, Oct. 24. The changing of family attitudes and reactions has often been the cause of the alcoholics seeking help, which is the only way of survival from this disease. A cancer patient goes to a physician, gets treatments regularly. An alcoholic goes to Alcoholics Anonymous. A co-alcoholic goes to Al-Anon.

Where do you fit in? Haven't you suffered enough? Come to an Al-Anon meeting Wednesday nights at the Bethel Savings Bank. Find out if it's for you. Give yourself a chance for a peaceful life.

ed their daughter Janice and family in Lewiston on Sunday. Saturday callers were Mrs. and Mrs. Steve Hoey of South Portland. Hugh and Edith were in Rumford one day last week.

On Wednesday evening Edith Labbe, Christine Kimball, Roberta White, Irene Anderson, Alice Kimball, Mrs. Lincoln and myself attended the Womens Fellowship meeting and supper in East Stoneham.

The past week has been a busy one here on the farm. The wood shed is full but with the cold weather we have been having, it won't be that way long.

Thursday night my folks, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Twitchell, stopped by for a short visit with us. While they were here we called my brother, Allan Twitchell and his wife, Jane, to inquire for our new nephew, Benjamin Jewett. He is doing just fine. Other callers during the week were, Polly and Gus McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nutting, June and Shelly Imman, Barbara Imman, Vicki Imman, Margaret Barton, Jimmie and Brett. Saturday night Dick and I went out to supper with Warren and Flossie Cairns at the Town and Country in Gorham, N. H., to celebrate Warren's birthday.

Better get out your warm coats and mittens as winter is just around the corner! See you next week.

NOTICE

I would like to thank all the volunteers who helped collect for the Muscular Dystrophy drive; also to those who donated. A special thanks to the people of Sunday River for giving so abundantly. Thanks to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Taisto Koskela called on Mrs. Olive Davis Sunday afternoon. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryant.

A group of Grangers from Franklin Grange called on Mrs. Flossie Twitchell at her apartment in the new home of Wendall Twitchell. Miss Charlotte Cole, Master of the Grange, presented her with a 75 year certificate and seals to add to her 50 year certificate she received then. Those present were Master, Charlotte Cole; Lecturer, Olive Davis; Steward, Carl Brooks; Treasurer, Lettie Brooks; Secretary, Harris Hathaway; Chaplain, Edith Hathaway; Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Twitchell and her sister, Mrs. Bessie Holpe of Rumford. Pictures were taken of Mrs. Twitchell.

Mrs. Bessie Holpe is spending an indefinite time with her sister, Mrs. Flossie Twitchell.

Leslie Davis has prepared Olive Davis' garden for another year. They harvested the rest of the produce which Olive has been busy freezing, making jelly and jams and storing a lot of potatoes and squash she raised the last summer. She has been a busy lady.

Mrs. Olive Davis doesn't want any one trapping on her land for fear they will get our cats, here. Her big black cat got into one at one time. He roams over the fields and woods here. Another year their gray cat lost his foot from getting into a trap. So please do not trap on her farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deegan are moving to 272 State Street, Portland to be near his work at the Seaward Construction Co. He is a heavy equipment operator for the company and has been traveling back and forth to his job there for the past month. Mr. Deegan formerly worked for P. H. Chadbourne, Bethel, for 18 years. Their son, Ronald will occupy their trailer here.

Mrs. Olive Davis and sister, Mrs. Lillian Harmon called on Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holt at Hanover, Tuesday, Oct. 12.

Western

North Paris

— Evelyn Barrett, Correspondent —

Congratulations to our new Postmaster, Joan Young of West Paris. She was born here in North Paris, in our front bedroom and we are all glad for her.

Such weather for the past week. Maybe it is just trying to prepare us for something worse, but we don't like it.

Lois O'Hearon was a patient at Norway hospital Oct. 8 to 11 with breathing troubles and asthma. She went to Dr. Medd Oct. 18 for a check up.

Mr. and Mrs. "Root" Lawrence went to Greenwood Oct. 17 to help Stevie Millett celebrate his tenth birthday.

John O'Hearon has moved his livestock into his new barn this week. They are putting on the roofing paper as the weather permits, Thursday his big red cow came to the barn followed by a nice red calf with white face.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cohen and two children, moved to their new home this week end, the former Harold Stevens house.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kalinowski accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Card on a trip to New Hampshire and Joe had his favorite Polish dish.

Calling at Barretts during the week were Louie Coffin, Madeleine Jacobs, John Estes, Doris Lawrence.

A party and dance was held at the hall Oct. 9 for the teenagers from this area and especially those that helped with the cleaning and painting at the hall.

Mrs. Marie Benson, 91, passed away Saturday, Oct. 18. Our sympathy to her family. She lived in the small house, formerly Leroy Ryerson's house.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Caldwell are preparing for their trip to Arizona for the winter. They have a different set-up this fall. It isn't a Winnebago, but similar, and it will be much easier for the Mrs. as she does all the driving. It has stove, frig., bathroom, bedroom, etc.

The Kallinowski's will leave North Paris, (Gangsters Gulch) on Oct. 31 for their winter home in Portland, Conn.

Greenwood City —

— Mrs. Collette Morgan, Correspondent —

Today is an autumn day, and I have been watching a few birds fly under the north west wind. I wish that the sight could be seen by the millions of people who never think about the how, why, or where of the wind. They know not or care not which way it blows. Although I do not always like the wind, there are times when it is invigorating. We found it so some times on the island of North Haven as we vacationed there for the past 10 days. There were times, too, that the fog was pushed out and crystalline clarity showed us a day caught in amber. Then out across the bay the surface was colored with the blue of the sky, a banner of silk reaching from shore to shore.

On one such day two others and I walked down a road which I had not traveled before. We first took the South Road then turned right. Almost immediately this road became a green tunnel with arches of timbered canopies. The flashing patterns of light and shadow made by the limbs, leaves, and sky added interest. The spruces prevailed. Because these crowd so closely together little sunlight filters through, therefore weeds and bushes are absent. I walked into them and found that the forest floor, was indeed a floor, needle strewn. To my right where there was a trickle of sunlight a lush bed of ferns grew. A wood nymph, a soft butterfly, flitted slowly by and over the ferns then came to rest on a lavender aster. It was languid and unafraid. All about, it was utterly still. I looked across the road and saw green velvet; the ground carpeted with it—moss.

On the way, I saw now and then a warning of a corner rock, a post, or a wall indicating a one time farm. The fields and woodlands have many overgrown cellar holes bringing to mind the stories of by gone days. A few generations ago these farms were the strength of the island people. Most of the older houses are the Cape Cod cottage style, or salt-box type. They are found snuggled against a protective hill side.

We followed this road to the farm marked Waterman's Farm 1789, looking out to sea.

Next we followed a road which would lead us to a turn and then left on to a dike which was made of rocks. Near by, flow the lord of the coast, the ever present gull while beyond rose the great blue heron.

Now we took a trail which we followed to the golf course. Here to our left, the water was torn by white caps, beyond the shore.

The bay was an exquisite jewel. Crossing the green cropped course we came to a path leading out, passing houses located in one of earth's enchanted spots. We were now near home; a short two mile walk but lined with richness of mosses, ferns, and coastal woodlands. I found myself thankful that I had been introduced to a charming spot, the miracle of the tides, the tremendous variety of forms of rocks where the sea glimmered and ridges receded over the horizon.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton Emmons, Woodstock, were callers at the Halls on Saturday, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holt, Windsor, Ann Holt, Bethel, were there.

Mrs. Lucy Bragg and Little Tommy, Peru, were at her mother's on Sunday and also spent some time with us.

Ruth Hastings and I attended the Delta Kappa Gamma Alpha Psi State Workshop Friday evening and Saturday at the Moses Mason House and Bethel Inn.

John Curtis, Olney, Mont., has been here visiting his mother and sisters and calling on many of his relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. David Holt, Princeton, were home over the long week end.

The summer campers have taken in their floats and boats this week. That must mean winter approaches.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hayes, Hyde Park, N. Y., spent the week end at the Hayes Homestead and attended the 50th wedding anniversary party of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hayes. Several others from here attended while helped to make the total of 2 present. They received a sum of money and several nice gifts.

There was organ music, played by several friends during the evening. A toast by their oldest son, Erwin, was given as he wished them the best of the 50 years past to return to the years ahead. Their other sons, Ardell, Glen and Duane and their wives made it an enjoyable evening.

When the leaves are all down and neatly raked up. Call the Man from GAN And he'll load his truck.

With a price tag of from 10 to 15 million dollars, the "Bottle Bill" has got to be the wrong answer!

Forget the 30c-a-six-pack deposit for a moment. You're supposed to get that money back.

The "Bottle Bill's" real price tag is from 10 to 15 million dollars in higher grocery prices and higher taxes! That's how much extra we'd have to come up with if the "Bottle Bill" passes.

Based on a study of the Vermont experience by the Maine State Grocers Association, Maine Grocers can expect increased costs of up to 12 million dollars for handling and storing used containers.

Add to that the higher beer and sales taxes required to offset the tax loss we would suffer to New Hampshire, plus the cost of unclaimed deposits, and the "Bottle Bill's" price tag runs anywhere from 10 to 15 million dollars!

And that's one deposit we'll never get back. The "Bottle Bill's" the wrong answer.

Help us put the right answers to work in Maine!

Hathaway Reports

Sen. William D. Hathaway

Water covers roughly 70% of the globe. It is an essential element for life on this planet and the oceans it forms are sources of food and energy and are important factors in our nation's commerce, defense, transportation, recreation, and weather.

These basic facts are nothing new to people in Maine, a coastal state with many diverse industries connected with the sea. Considering the importance and impact of the oceans to our state and national economies and livelihood, however, it may be surprising to note that there is no effective coordination of the many federal agencies involved in national ocean policy making and programs.

For example, the Department of Defense is responsible for the Navy and Marine Corps; the Department of Interior for such things as ocean mining; and oil and gas explorations; the Department of Commerce for commercial maritime activities and fisheries management; the Department of State for international negotiations involving ocean policy; the Department of Transportation for deepwater ports and the Coast Guard; the Environmental Protection Agency for pollution; and the Energy Research and Development Administration for the ocean's energy alternative potentials. This is by no means a complete listing but it does effectively illustrate how fragmented our federal programs are.

Furthermore a cursory glance at recent testimony from the heads of many of the departments just listed before a House subcommittee reveals the diverse and sometimes conflicting attitudes these individuals have regarding the best way to develop and implement national ocean policy.

It leads one to wonder which one of these cabinet members could effectively and authoritatively explain what this ocean policy is. The fact of the matter is, there is no existing source capable of giving such a definition.

Congress has, over the past 15 years, considerably increased its legislative activity regarding oceanic programs and administration but, it too, has not addressed the problem of a comprehensive policy sufficiently.

With the implementation of the 200 mile limit a few months away; with the continued mining of the ocean for minerals and exploration for oil and gas; with the increasing concern over pollution of ocean waters closing beaches and fishing areas; and with the ever-growing reliance on the oceans for our food supply, this country cannot afford to overlook this serious problem any longer.

special time-saving techniques for sewing with stretch fabrics. Demonstrations include T-shirts, turtlenecks, V-neck and tab-front shirts, and elastic-waisted slacks with emphasis on good fit and construction ease. Each student will complete three to five garments during the 10-week session.
